LARGEST COTTON AREA IN INDIA IN 30 YEARS

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The largest cotton area in thirty-two years in India is indicated in a cablegram received by the department of agriculture from the Indian department of statistics which gives the area planted to Oct. 1 to be 21,783,000 acres. On the basis of the average proportion of the area planted by Oct. 1 in the last 12 years, a total acreage of 26,247,000 acres might be expected, the department of agriculture states, and adds that it is possible that more than the average percentage of area has been planted by Oct. 1, this year.

Says Broadcasting Is In the Hands of Business Men

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Radio will not become an intellectual force in society until its broadcast directors education and intelligence programs of higher quality are arranged and advertisers and propagandists are banished from the studios.

With these recommendations the New Public, weekly periodical of opinion, indicates radio broadcasting today as uninteresting, commercialized and unprogressive, while it sees in this industry the development of a powerful educational institution.

"In most parts of the country," reads an editorial, "only 30 per cent of the non-musical material on the air is sheer rubbish, not worth the attention of any one with more than an eight-year-old mind."

Good Talent Needed
Paid advertising is forced on the listener, the writer continues, after dinner speeches are transmitted with little regard to their merit, and a corps of volunteer publicists at the air nightly.

Of course, radio broadcasters must pay to get competent speakers and entertainers, but this is just as important as having good men in the faculty of a great university, he adds.

"This remarkable invention," the writer explains, "with potential powers second only to those of the printing press and with an audience already nearly as large as that of our entire public school system, is mainly under control of men unfitted by training and personality for posts of such importance."

Like Movies
While there are few exceptions, such as stations maintained by universities, it is generally in the hands of underpaid individuals, picked up at haphazard, usually musicians or men whose primary interest is music.

They are admirably suited to assemble orchestras, produce and sing, but when it comes to lectures and addresses they are about as competent as Florenz Ziegfeld is to run Columbia University.

TO REVISE LEASES OF PROPOSED MERGER

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—Counsel for the Van Sweringen interests of Cleveland and the various roads involved in their proposed new "Nickel Plate" system will meet here tomorrow to revise the leases under which unified control and operation of the properties will be effected.

Dissatisfactions with the terms outlined in the first draft of the lease temporarily has blocked progress in the merger negotiations. Several important alterations, designed to safeguard the rights of minority stockholders, will be demanded by representatives of the Erie and Pere Marquette railroads, it is understood.

STRIKERS INCREASE IN JAPAN

TOKYO, Oct. 28.—Japanese labor, growing in class consciousness, is becoming increasingly unruly. Official statistics compiled by the home department show that strikes were more than twice as numerous in the first half of 1932 as in the first half of 1931. There were 435 strikes involving 55,000 workers in the first six months of this year, as compared with 182 strikes involving 25,000 workers during the first half of 1931.

ENVY OF AMATEURS

The world's record for long-distance two-way, amateur radio communication is in the hands of W. B. Rea of San Pedro, Calif. He has worked the station operated by Frank D. Bell of Waukegan, New Zealand, 1900 miles away. The American Radio Relay League, of which he is a member, has given him an Australian boomerang for his success. Rea's receiver was the famous Roberts "Knockout Circuit."

SAMUEL REA TO RETIRE

(By The Associated Press)
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 28.—The directors of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company announced today that having in view the retirement of President Samuel Rea next year, they would carry out the company's extensive terminal developments in several large cities and other important business, they have elected General W. W. Attebury vice president of the company. He now is vice president in charge of operation. President Rea will be 70 years old Sept. 21, next, when he is expected to retire under the company's retirement system.

They claim a Wall Street man who stole a million lost it, but it isn't the custom.

RADIO NOTES

SECRET TRANSMISSION
Secret transmission by radio is perfectly possible, according to Edouard Bellin, inventor of photo-transmission system. His idea depends on synchronizing the transmitter and receiver to perfection and making it impossible for an outsider to discover the key to the system.

IN VIEW OF SHOPPERS
Shoppers at the Gimbels store in New York will have the unique opportunity of seeing how radio programs are broadcast. A double glass partition separates the studio rooms from the station WGBS from the store, so that outsiders may see the entire operation and yet not interfere.

SHAKESPEARE B RADIO
Shakespeare is on the air. Station WLS at Chicago, has begun a series of presentations of the famous dramatic plays, through the microphone. Big scenes of popular operas also will be reproduced.

SUN IS BLAMED
The signals heard in radio sets during the attempts to listen in on Mars were caused by the action of the sun's rays on the earth, explains Abbe Moreaux, the famous French scientist. The disturbances might have been increased by the proximity of Mars.

MAP SENT BY RADIO
During the military maneuvers in France, the famous Belin system of transmitting photos by radio was used to send a map from one section of the country to another.

You can put a satin finish on your newly drilled panel by rubbing machine oil on it with a fine grade of emery cloth, steel wool or pumice. Rub only back and forth and lengthwise of the panel. Remove the oil after the desired finish is obtained.

Cut a hole in the large end of a long-necked gourd. Take out the seeds, cut off the small end, insert a speaker unit and you have a good loudspeaker.

Diamond shaped dial markers can be cut from white enamel and glued to the panel directly above the dial. Test phones by dragging the tips over a thin coin. If you hear a faint scratching noise, your phones are O. K.

A small piece of vaselined cardboard with a little powdered carbon sprinkled on it makes an efficient grid leak.

ON DUTY 24 HOURS
There is always an operator and director, day and night, at station KTW at Chicago. Keeping up the station has a personnel of 30 people, keeping it in constant readiness for broadcasting.

CLEAN INSULATORS
Insulators should be kept clean, to prevent shorting over the porcelain. This is why the aerial should be so constructed as to permit its taking down for cleaning.

NEW FRENCH TUBE
A new French tube, designed by the famous Abbe Tauleigne, may be classed as the outstanding battery tubes now in use in America and England.

PERSIAN CABINET APPOINTMENTS

TEHERAN—The principal appointments in the new Persian cabinet, recently formed, follow:

MELLON SAYS PEOPLE AVOID "FALSE GODS"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Secretary Mellon appealed to the American people in a radio address here tonight to stick to "well tried economic principles" in solving their problems, asserting he was confident that in the end their intelligence and initiative would bring satisfactory results.

Arguments for changes in the government's economic policy were answered by the secretary with the statement that this country in the past has avoided "false gods" and he urged that "before we burn down the house in which we now live, we should see the plans of the promised dwelling."

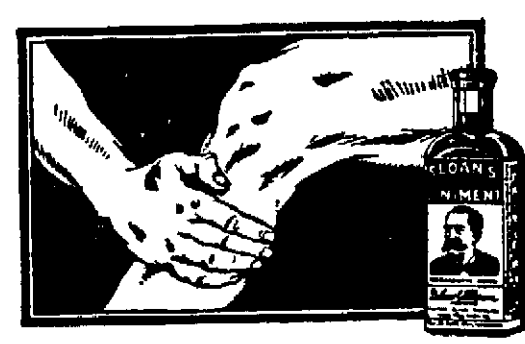

Mr. Mellon praised the Dawes' reparations settlement as a method of restoring economic solidarity to Europe generally and declared it already had brought a sense of relief if not an actual quickening of commerce and industry. The result of the Dawes' inauguration, he added, should be growing markets for American goods and a stimulus, therefore, to American industry.

NEW SHORT LINE RAILROAD TO START

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—The Florida Western and Northern Railroad, new short line of the Seaboard Air Line Railway, will open for passenger and freight traffic on January 1, 1933, S. Davies Warfield, president, announced today.

Married in Charlotte.

An affair of interest to many people in this community was the marriage of Frank Eldridge Minter, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Minter, of Martinsville and brother of Mrs. T. J. Childress, of Sutherland, and Miss Margaret Bernice York, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Franklin York, of Charlotte, N. C., which took place at the Church of the Holy Comforter, in Charlotte, last Saturday evening, October 25, at 7 o'clock, Rev. Robert Bruce Owens, rector of the church officiating.

The wedding was celebrated with all the beautiful attributes of music and a large bridal party, and followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents.

W. O. Minter, of Richmond, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and Miss Alice York, of Concord, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. There were four bridesmaids and four groomsmen, the latter including Stafford Minter, of Richmond, brother of the bridegroom.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, John Franklin York. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. York and was educated at Queen's college, Charlotte; St. Mary's Episcopal school, Raleigh, and at Maryland School of Art, Baltimore, Md. She is an exceptionally talented young woman of charming personality.

The groom is prominently connected in Virginia. He was educated at Virginia Polytechnic Institute and after graduating, was for some time associated with the Hartford Insurance Company, Hartford, Conn. He is now holding a position with the Home Insurance Company, of New York, in Charlotte, N. C. Mr. Minter ranks very high as a young insurance man of experience and splendid ability, and commands many friends in business and society.

Bride Luncheon. Miss Annie James gave a bridge-luncheon today at her home on Main street, honoring her house-guest, Miss Virginia Perkins, of New York, New Jersey, and Miss Ione McKnight, of Monticello, Ga., the guest of Miss Harrell James. The lower floor was decorated with yellow chrysanthemums and autumn leaves, which together with Halloween tally cards, favors and table decorations, and yellow and black shaded lamps, effectively emphasized the spirit of the season.

Prizes were given to the guests of honor and also to the out-of-town visitors. Miss Mary Redding Nichols, of Washington, D. C., the guests of Mrs. T. Randolph Perkins, Jr., and Miss Virginia Fisher, of Salisbury, N. C., who is visiting Miss Mary-Elizabeth. A prize was also given for top score.

Ashby Jones, accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Murrill, of Richmond, left this morning for Waco, Texas, where they will attend the Cotton Palace Exhibition to be held October 25th to October 28th. French Marquis Gloria Swanson's Latest Lover

(By Chicago Tribune Service.) PARIS, Oct. 29.—Another thing this time that of a French nobleman—has gone the way so many have gone before. All Paris is watching the manner in which the Marquis De Falaise, a true Parisian blue blood, is angling for the heart and hand of Gloria Swanson, the American movie star. The Marquis is seen everywhere with Gloria. When she is at a party, he is there. De Falaise is her interpreter. When Miss Swanson trips down the Rue De La Paix, her latest swain is right by her side. And needless to state, the Marquis is sincerely envied by any number of other noblemen. Whether Gloria is taking a contravention regarding the right of the Marquis is something only she can answer. But it is obvious the Marquis is very much in love with Gloria.

Gloria is living in the Queen's taste. New dresses, gowns, jewels and what-nots are purchased almost daily. Her beautiful home at 10 Place Des Etoiles is the scene of many elaborate receptions and colorful parties. Gloria has suddenly acquired a desire for airplane trips and almost any weekend will find her flying either to Brussels or London.

Miss Swanson expects to finish work on her new picture in January, spend a few weeks in Nice, and then return to America. But perhaps the Marquis De Falaise will have something to say about that.

EXPLOSION OF BOMB WRECKS MAYOR'S HOME

Outrage Follows Controversy Regarding Right of Klan to Parade

(By The Associated Press.) NILES, O., Oct. 29.—Explosion of a bomb, early today, wrecked the front of the home of Mayor H. L. Kistler. The mayor and his family sleeping upstairs, escaped injury. A controversy regarding the right of the Ku Klux Klan to stage a parade here Saturday afternoon has been raging for several days. Officials of the Knights of the Flaming Circle also applied for permission to parade at the same time, but their request was denied by the mayor, who declared that Klan officials applied first. Mayor Kistler has appeared in court today to answer charges in an effort to prevent possible charges.

A peace conference held last evening under chairmanship of P. J. Sheehan, representing the Niles Manufacturers Association, with leaders of both factions present, failed to achieve its object of a truce. It was announced after the meeting that Mayor Kistler today said he had been warned that a parade would be held for a parade. He decided to say in what form the warning was received.

The Tangle

An Intimate Story of Innermost Emotion Revealed in Private Letters

After Karl and John had gone to carry out mother's charge, I went up to her room and found her sitting beside the window with her hands folded in her lap, and with such a look of utter loneliness upon her face that I hastened to put my arms around her and tell her that John and I were going to always try to carry out her wishes, and that she and Karl had already gone to bring some comfort to that other woman, who had buried not only her love but her hopes, but probably her only support.

"I do hope he will find her, Leslie, and tell her I will defray all the funeral expenses," "He will, dearest," I answered. Shortly she began to talk to me about her life with my father. She told me of a evening when she had been sitting with him a week or two before. After they had been silent quite a while and she thought he was asleep, he reached out and clasped her hand, and whispered: "Alice, I'm afraid I'm not going to get well."

"I said to him, Leslie," she explained, "that he must not think of anything like that, and he, to comfort me, said: 'Well, we might as well think about it a little, even if I do get well.'"

Alice, he said after a little hesitation, "I wonder if you know that you have always been the real leader of my existence? I have worked for your approval, and played for your pleasure. I have spent what I have earned only to make you happy; and, my dear, I want you to remember, after I am gone, that all through our long life together, what you have said and what you have done has been perfectly right in my eyes. I would not have had you changed on the wife of mine."

"I'm not afraid to die. I have always felt that if there be a God, he is love, and he approves of everything I have done. I don't know, Alice dear, whether it is eternal oblivion or eternal life, but having lived as well as I know how, having tried to rectify my mistakes and to be humble in my successes, and having done what I could to make others happy always, whether it be the end of all or the beginning of another and more glorious existence, I will take my chance."

To tell me this seemed to comfort mother a great deal, and she kept talking on, telling me of episodes and events in her and father's life. I let her ramble on, for in my mind I knew I was going to try and have her bury all this in her heart after today. I do not believe that any woman can be happy by living in the past.

In a little while Karl and Jack came back, having found the woman said to be that mother would pay the funeral expenses. This was a great surprise to me. She confided to them that she had not known what she was going to do; that the insurance upon her husband's life was a thousand dollars, and she had spent practically all of it for the funeral.

"After this week," she said, "I would have been obliged to send my children to a home, but I would not have anyone think that I did not love my man, or that I would fail in respect to his memory."

Isn't that pathetic? Why must we gauge all our sense of right and wrong by what people say of us? (Copyright, 1924, N.E.A. Service, Inc.)

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hayes, Jr., of Wilson, N. C., who stopped in Danville yesterday en route home from their honeymoon, spent in New York city, left today. Mr. Hayes will be stationed at Blackstone this winter as a representative of John E. Hughes company.

Mrs. W. G. Vansant, of Chatham, is visiting her mother, Mrs. E. H. Herndon, West Main street. Mrs. Vansant came over to attend the bridge-luncheon given today by Miss Annie James, in honor of visiting girls.

Mr. and Mrs. Ester Dudley, of Sumter, S. C., are visiting Col. and Mrs. O. W. Dudley and Dr. and Mrs. R. Bruce James.

Miss Elizabeth Wynne has returned to the city after an absence of several weeks.

Miss Willie Powell, R. N., has taken rooms for the winter at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. James, South Main street.

R. T. Wilson, attorney of Vanceville, N. C., stopped in Danville yesterday on his return from Greenville, S. C., where he has spent several days looking into the affairs of the Edwards hotel. Mr. Wilson is representing the Edwards association of North Carolina.

Adolph Hoffman, of Hoffman's ready-to-wear store, is in New York for his winter buying.

The reason many of us do not take the opportunity, thinks Bryan M. H. is that it usually goes around disguised as hard work.

FASHION NOTES

COLORFUL SWEATERS

Sweaters are more interesting than ever before and are banded with contrasting materials, or made with Jacquard designs in bright colors.

SMART MUFFLERS

Mufflers of wool materials such as Scotch cashmere or kasha are lined with harmonizing colors and worn with wool top coats.

DRAPERIES USED

Cascade draperies attached under plain shawl collars are added to smart gowns to give that soft graceful line that is so flattering and so feminine.

UNTRIMMED FROCKS

A straight-line frock is absolutely untrimmed, and is pleated, ruffled, or applied apron fashion across the front.

The most popular plaids are those made by the incorporation of one fabric on another, such as velvets on kasha or wools on silk.

The cravat fastening on coats and suits is new and very smart. It gives the close collar effect without adding to the bulk as the large shawl collars do, and it keeps that youthful line that must not be sacrificed.

Circular skirts are very interesting, particularly those of velvet or wool fabrics, and they are shown with straight blouses that fit over the skirt without a break.

The fur-bordered tunic is featured on satins gowns and evening models of the most filmy fabrics.

Long fringes and fringed ornaments made of pearl beads in combination with colored stones are a favorite method of trimming the evening frocks of the moment.

Japanese mink or squirrel are very much liked for banding coats because they blend so harmoniously with the new soft finished coat materials.

WHY THEY PARTED. "I was down with pain in my right side which at times almost crazed me. Most all of the doctors said operation. But what I want to tell you is the pain disappeared with the first dose of your medicine and I never see any signs of it. Wonderful Remedy has the right name—gas, sour stomach and dyspepsia have left, too." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. BETTER WIVES AND MOTHERS

The emancipation of women as evidenced by the evolution in dress from steel stays that made a twenty inch waist and the long street sweeping skirts to the sports clothes of the present day has certainly had an effect upon the health of women. With proper attention to diet and exercise a race of better wives and mothers is assured by it. If, however, ailments develop as evidenced by irregularities, backache, nervousness, nervousness and irritability, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound may be depended upon to overcome them. Thousands of women testify to its success.—adv.

Complexion better than ever before

Embrassing eruption had resisted many treatments

Milwaukee, Wis., May 12—"A year ago I had a very ugly and embarrassing itching rash on my chin. I tried so many different treatments on it which did little good, that finally I became discouraged. The druggist one day recommended Resinol Soap and I decided to try it and after using it less than one week, the itching and burning ceased. I thought if the soap alone could bring such relief, then the Resinol Ointment must certainly clear away the trouble entirely. After applying it for three nights, I was to find the rash all gone, with not even a trace of redness left. I now keep Resinol Ointment within reach at all times—would not be without it. I find it very economical to use, as a little goes a long way. I have used Resinol Soap daily and will continue to do so. My complexion today is better than ever before, has a healthy glow and, in fact, is all that it should be—thanks to your wonderful Resinol Soap and Ointment." (Signed) Mrs. J. ## LUMPKIN WINS LONG FIGHT FOR BETTES SERVICE

Washington "O. K.'s New Parcel Post Window, Relieving Congestion

Postmaster F. D. Lumpkin has prevailed upon the Postoffice Department in Washington to grant additional window facilities in the Danville postoffice, doing away with the tedious delays which patrons now daily experience, especially between five and six o'clock at the stamp window.

Plans drawn by Mr. Lumpkin have been approved and these call for the removal of the door leading from the lobby to the workroom, and opening there a permanent window for parcel post matter, thus removing it from the stamp window which is now heavily congested. The improvement will cost in the neighborhood of $300 and will be let to a local contractor after bids have been opened. It will take some time to get construction under way, however, and Mr. Lumpkin felt certain that it would not be done before Christmas. He plans, however, removing the door and getting up an emergency window so as to cope with the Christmas rush.

Mr. Lumpkin admitted this morning that complaints from Danville patrons are increasing over the delays. Usually between five and six o'clock representatives of tobacco firms mailing samples and other business houses mailing goods by parcel post arrive at the window sometimes with as many as twenty packages secured for them and other patrons wishing to buy a two-cent stamp have to wait. A few nights ago fifteen persons were kept twelve minutes by the clock waiting to be waited on. This, however, isn't an isolated instance, but happens almost every evening.

The new window now assured will greatly relieve the congestion at the stamp window, as all parcel post material will be handled there, and the window will be open continually during postoffice hours.

TOO STUPID TO BE PRESIDENT

PULASKI, Tenn., Oct. 28.—"If Calvin Coolidge did not know what was going on in connection with the Teapot Dome oil leases, as his supporters claim he did not, he is too stupid to be president of the United States," said James M. Cox, former governor of Ohio and Democratic nominee for president in 1920, in a speech here tonight.

My Skin

Is Due to a Super-Clay

By Edna Wallace Hopper

After 40 years in the limelight—after 35 years as a stage star—I still look a girl of 18. The thousands who see me daily know that, and wonder how this came about.

The chief reason lies in a new-type clay. I started years ago with the old-type clays, crude and muddy, which brought me many a bad result. But I have kept in touch with scientific progress, and in 20 years it has brought me a clay which gives multiplied results.

My White Clay rages the skin of all that clings and marks it. It draws out the causes of blackheads and blemishes. It brings the blood to the skin to nourish and revive it. The result is a rosy afterglow which amazes and delights. Many women seem to drop ten years with one application.

It firms the skin, combats all lines and wrinkles, reduces enlarged pores. No girl or woman who once enjoys its results will ever go without it.

I want you to know what it does. My good fortune obtained it for me. I was famous as a beauty, and I am expert enough to give me the greatest aids to beauty. Now I wish to bring like benefits to millions.

Write me for my Beauty Book and I'll send with it something else to please you.

PROPOSED LONG TERM LEASE OF N. & W. OFF

(By The Associated Press)—The Norfolk and Western Railroad Company announced today that all negotiations for a long term lease by the Pennsylvania Railroad of the Norfolk and Western have been ended because the Pennsylvania has been unable to make a proposition on a financial basis that is satisfactory to the Norfolk and Western stockholders.

The Norfolk and Western further announced that the conclusion of the negotiations would not affect the friendly relations existing for a long time between the two companies and which have been to the mutual benefit and to the advantage of the territories served by both.

TWO ELMIRA YOUTHS HERE ON A LONG MOTOR TRIP

Two adventurous young men, O. Richard and Ira Murray, both 19 years old and residents of Elmira, N. Y., are in Danville on a leisurely automobile trip from their home with Lake City, Fla., as their first destination, are now in Danville and are temporarily employed here in the prosecution of their plan to work from place to place in order to secure such employment as will enable them to finance their trip. The boys are connected with a publishing concern. They left Elmira on Thursday, Oct. 23rd in a Ford touring car equipped for travel and went by way of Williamsport, Pa., to Washington; thence to Richmond, Va., and thence to Danville, where they now are, after having spent two days in Richmond. Their car is a Ford touring, 1919 model.

Messrs. Richard and Murray landed a job in Danville without difficulty and are stopping while here at the home of A. L. Drew, 126 South Ridge Street and are working as salesmen. After a few days here they will re-enter the Ford and continue to hit the trail southward. Last night they stated that they might traverse the Gulf States and go as far as southern California. They are able to make such repairs to their car as may be necessary. Both appear to be enjoying their jaunt and the country and the places they see.

STILL NO ANSWER

The warmth of the rapidly closing campaign fails to melt the frigid silence which encompasses the White House and even the latest salvo fired at President Coolidge has died away without an answer. Unless within the next few days he offers some plausible explanation for his insistence in charging the American Legion of Bridgeport, Conn., the sum of $250 for making a patriotic address before that Post, he will have to reckon with a serious defection of Legion votes next Tuesday. Be as said that the address in question was made in April 1923, when Calvin Coolidge was vice-president of the United States and not president—and of course, before he vetoed the Adjusted Compensation Bill. There seems to be no doubt about the facts. They have been dug up without difficulty and there can, on the face of the published records be no denial of the acceptance by Mr. Coolidge of the $250 as a fee for and his expenses in connection with the memorial address to the Post. Champions of the president have come forward in an effort to ward off the political consequences of the revelation just at this time. One of the most amusing is that of a Republican who has appeared in print in the New York papers and who refers to the emolument insistently as "an honorarium." He shudders at the crude English of the newspapers which set the president down as having "exact" a fee. In another Republican quarter the effort is made to make light of the incident and, figuratively speaking, to pat the president on the back with the somewhat crass explanation that "it was one shrewd Yankee bargaining with other Yankees" and that "any man who can get $250 out of a group of Connecticut Yankees has already earned it." This, of course will fall to strengthen the president's position in the minds of buddies of the North who will fail to join in the hearty laugh which the author of the explanation evidently expects.

The fact of the matter is that the fee was accepted and that where many men high in public life and low in cash have considered it an honor to be asked to make an address before the men who offered themselves on the scaffold of war the then vice-president did not hesitate to turn the opportunity to material gain.

SELECTING A LEADER FOR 110,000,000

Narrow partisanship or childish partisanship even only the patronage or the prestige to be won for a certain group in a presidential election. No matter how earnest the followers of a candidate or a cause, there are there always are others attached to the movement who think only of the possibility of spoils. The latter class either fall to see the larger phase of a quadrennial national election or this country the selection of a leader for more than 110,000,000 people to preserve the Republic and serve high ideals, or else they recklessly disregard it. Yet it is impressed upon us that the demands upon our presidents are growing greater and greater. Not only have our chief ex-

TODAY'S TALK

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS.

Step Out!

There wouldn't be much to this world without its rank and file. On the other hand, there wouldn't be much of a rank and file if somebody didn't step out every once in a while and run ahead.

George M. Cohan says that the great man is he who does the original thing, who steps out and demonstrates that he is able to handle the unusual situation.

To me Chicago is one of the most inspiring cities in America. I would say the world, but I have not been around the world yet. Also I do not live in Chicago.

But it wasn't very long ago that a group of far seeing men in Chicago dreamed a dream—a beautiful city. And so they drew a picture of it. Beautiful avenues and lovely buildings were drawn to take place of narrow streets, impassable situations and old rickety buildings.

In less than twenty years the city has been partly rebuilt. Whole streets have been widened and great avenues have appeared. The great Lake Michigan has been coaxed to back up and new water drives have appeared. A marvelous museum and the great artificial municipal stadium in the world has been built where once the waves washed the shore.

Before long the greatest water front and park drive in the world will be completed. Such enterprise is an inspiration for the entire world.

But those men of vision had to step out. They had to fight opposition. They had to produce the goods.

I like the "step out" men. Just fix the names of a few in your mind: Edison, Ford, Rockefeller, Steinmetz, Harriman.

Mr. Miller who is the general manager of The Detroit News, told me the story of a commissioner of public works who was building sewers. He became uneasy because it took so much time and money. So he invented a new piece of machinery that did about twenty times the amount of work.

Be a rank and file until you know the rank and file. Then, my friend, step out!

cutives national situations to meet, but the changing conditions of the world also present international problems to them. The office, the leadership of a great people made up of many racial origins and in a period full of complications and dangers, calls for the biggest and wisest man offered for the place by the different parties.

This forces consideration not only of the issues and policies represented by the candidates, but also of the latter personally. The party orators have put this personal feature bluntly. Each group represents its candidate as standing "head and shoulders" above all the others. It is now for the voters themselves to decide which of the leading candidates they would feel safer with in the White House in the presence of a national or international situation calling not only for the greatest ability, but also the greatest courage and the speediest decision—and withal the qualities of leadership.

Thoughtful Americans realize that in such a period as their own president must be a leader who not only can lead his own party, but who also can inspire the whole people to great action on occasion. No more sentimentality or partisan considerations should be permitted to influence the selection of a leader at such a time as this for a nation so vast and having such complicated problems. In plain terms, which of the three principal candidates—Davis, Coolidge, La Follette—would you feel safer with in the White House in the presence of a situation demanding leadership and wisdom of the highest quality?

The time has come to face that question squarely. In fairness to themselves, the American people cannot allow any polite consideration of the feelings of the candidates to influence their decision. They are about to all-Americanize and hardest job in the nation. It is of paramount importance that they select the best of the candidates. They must be fair to themselves.

The Democrats challenge the voters of whatever party affiliation to compare the qualifications of the other candidates with those of John W. Davis. They declare unhesitatingly their opinion that Davis measures up to the demand of the day for leadership. He has a record as a progressive along sound lines, and he is world renowned as a lawyer. Not only has he shown practical views on domestic conditions, but he admittedly has the broadest outlook on the international situation.

The people owe it to themselves to cast partisanship aside and elect John W. Davis.

Dreams

each has its own MEANING

When you dream that you have been quite popular in a crowd made up entirely of the opposite sex, do not be elated, for it is only a foreboding of the disappointments to come to you.

It may mean that you are soon to be led into embarrassment and that you will suffer greatly through gossip.

Interpretations

If you are enjoying yourself among friends you can look for good news from an unexpected quarter soon.

Jealousy aroused in a dream is only the forerunner for jealousy that will be aroused in actual life. Beware of it.

Games of chance, even though you win in your dreams, spell big losses for you unless you are careful.

To be at a masquerade ball try unsuccessfully to recognize a person means that you are being a victim of depression.

Albert Gerst Dies At Norfolk Home

Many of the older residents of Danville will learn with sorrow of the death in Norfolk, Va., Monday of Captain Albert Gerst, a native and for many years a widely known resident of this city. His death resulted from a complication of diseases and after a long period of declining health. Funeral services will be held in Norfolk this (Wednesday) morning from the Ohel Sholem temple.

Captain Gerst is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Sabina Guckenheimer, of Savannah and by two children—Mrs. Harry Hoehmer and Herbert J. Gerst, of Norfolk. His brother, Emmanuel Gerst, and his sister, Mrs. Myers, died some years ago. The Gerst family was long active and prominent in Danville and during most of their residence here lived in the large frame structure subsequently purchased by Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Taylor and now converted into apartments.

The Messrs. Gerst left Danville about 25 or thirty years ago, but have visited here not infrequently since that time. Formerly they were engaged in the manufacture of sash doors and blinds in a plant on the canal, but subsequently they engaged in the tobacco manufacturing business under the firm name of Stultz, Lisberger & Co. While a resident here Mr. Albert Gerst served as member of the city council and was for many years captain commanding the old Danville Grays, Third regiment of Virginia volunteer infantry.

At the time of his death, at the age of 70, Captain Gerst president of a laundry corporation and a director of the Trust Company of Norfolk, and was active in the Norfolk branch of the S. P. C. A. He was also honorary chairman of the Ohel Sholem Temple. A man of fine character and uprightness, he was a good citizen and a man of wide information and culture.

While no information is given as to the place of burial, it is assumed that the interment will be made in Norfolk, where he had for years resided.

Rotarians Gather On Ladies' Night

The Rotary Club of Danville last night commemorated Ladies' Night with a dinner at the country club, together with a varied musical and entertainment program which the entire company numbering 129 to 150 thoroughly enjoyed. Many amusing stunts were embraced in the program, some of them extremely laughable. Besides the wives and prospective wives of the Rotarians a new departure was inaugurated in the invitation of several members of the faculty of local schools and the daughters and sons of Rotarians who are students at the girls' colleges or the Danville Military Institute, while several visiting Rotarians were also present. President A. A. Booth presided in his easy and efficient manner.

The opening number of the varied program was an enjoyable selection by the Westbrook orchestra, a well known group of melody-makers whose instruments were attuned to a joyous note for the occasion.

Miss Robt. Given Number.

A delightful feature of the occasion was the singing of Miss Ruth M.

Meat, of the value culture department of Averett College, a singer whose fine voice has been heard often in this city. She gave several numbers last night, these including "Homage," "Pale Moon" and "The Wind in the South."

Another contribution or series of contributions to the musical program was made by the No. Name Club, Messrs. A. K. Raine, John G. Eanes, Kennedy and Brewer, a fine quartet who sang, "The Rosary," "Pickadilly Lullaby," "The Gypsy Trail," "My Pumpkin Sue" and "The Twins." The cordial reception by the audience impelled them to respond to encores.

Another musical (?) number was the Lollipop Song, given with inimitable melody by a bunch of the club's stellar vocalists, these embracing A. D. Starling, M. O. Nelson, A. B. Crowell, C. C. Johnson, "Hoe" Eanes, Rawley Thompson, Frank (Councilman) McFall, Fred Leggett and Jim Thomas, who had no more trouble handling their notes than those from the banks (of the Wabash). These singers are rarely heard in recital, hence their response to a large demand last night was the more enjoyed.

Operate on "Jim Seegar"

In the stunt list, the crowd had the unique experience of a close-up on a modern surgical operation in shadow-graph form. Two surgeons operated on patient Jim Seegar—and he really showed rare patience and dignity and let the doctors do "the cutting up". At last accounts the patient was said to be alive, and many regard him as a live wire ordinarily.

After the patient had been taken back to the ward (the Fourth), three satohels, which the sequel showed contained masculine and feminine apparel were brought on, followed by the appearance of ten gentlemen and as many ladies. A competition in swift dressing was then given amid great excitement, a prize being awarded to the first lady and another to the first gentleman to complete the speed toilet. While the audience watched the competitors don (not darn) their costumes amid unusual excitement the contestants did their stunt in real earnestness. Mrs. John E. Overbey won the ladies' prize while Dr. W. O. Hankins carried off the men's prize.

Mrs. T. R. Perkinson, Jr., Mrs. W. O. Hankins and Mrs. W. E. Jennings were the judges in this contest.

Minstrel Show Turn

This stunt was followed by a minstrel show turn, "Hallowe'en Horrors" by the "Seven Sons of Sin," well known local histrionic stars, who frequently scintillate and coruscate.

Another musical "Jim" of the program was the singing by Will H. Parker, a Rotarian, and Dr. Jimmy Shelburne, Kiwanian, of the negro spiritual, "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot."

The visitors on this occasion included C. Vance Henkel, of Statesville, N. C., Mrs. Henkel and their daughter, Miss Lila; Misses Helen Board, Winifred Buckingham, Sybil Flowers, Sallie Cowell, Frances Gilla, Eunice Middleton and Martha Kelly.

R. M. L. students whose fathers are Rotarians Miss Ruth M. Root, Misses Salome Bailey, Florence Adams, Helen C. Gannon and Susie Turner of Averett College; and Cadets F. Reinhart, T. Reinhart and G. Brown, of the D. M. L. sons of Rotarians.

QUESTION BOX.
QUESTION—Suppose team A forward passed a ball over the opposing goal line. The receiver is over the goal line about to catch it when a map of team B pulls him out of the way. What is the decision?
ANSWER—Touchdown for team A.

QUESTION—Team A wins toss and chooses the goal. Is team B automatically compelled to kick off?
ANSWER—No. The team losing the toss may choose whether to kick off or to receive in case the team winning the toss chooses goal.

QUESTION—Is John Levy, the famous Haskell Indian player still on the Haskell team? Is he as good as Jim Thorpe used to be?
ANSWER—Yes, he is. He is not as good as Jim Thorpe used to be.

England plans a sport museum. Such interesting relics as Bob Wells and Joe Beckett will occupy the main exhibits.

DAILY PUZZLE

Here are ten discs, each with a different figure. They are made to slide around the circular track; but one cannot pass another. They now form three numbers, 708, 25 and 69431, but when 708 is multiplied by 25, it does not equal 69431.

The problem is to slide the discs around until you can make them form three numbers; the first number, multiplied by the second must produce the third.

Can you do it?
Yesterday's answer:

In the "word square," each of the six words reads the same from top to bottom as it does across.

FOOTBALL STARS FAIL IN MAJORS

By BILLY EVANS.
Does football jinx the college baseball star?

Major league scouts are just about convinced that such is the case.

If a scout is favorably impressed by a certain college ball player, he at once makes inquiries as to whether he plays football.

An affirmative reply immediately causes him to lose much interest in said athlete.

On ly a limited few of the college athletes who have starred on the gridiron as well as the diamond have made good in big league ball.

It seems that football takes something out of the athlete as a ball player. The grid game has a tendency to slow him up in come ways than one.

Football Injuries Costly.
The chance of injury is also great. Many college players come to the majors bearing the marks of their football careers. Often these injuries make ordinary players out of men who might have starred.

Castner, one of the greatest athletes ever turned out at Notre Dame, failed as a big league pitcher with the Chicago White Sox.

Only a year in talking with Coach Rockne of Notre Dame he paid tribute to Castner.

"He was as great in athlete as George Gipp, who I regard as the best man I ever coached, but lacked Gipp's staying powers. Castner was brittle. Gipp an iron man."

Many Grid Stars Fail.
Castner, great college pitcher, never had a chance as a big leaguer. He pitched as if shoulder-bound, no doubt the penalty of football injuries.

Michigan's last two centers were Ernie Vick and Jack Blott, both remarkable players, All-America selections.

Versatile athletes, they went big on the diamond as well as gridiron. Both starred as catchers. Branch Rickey took Vick to St. Louis, while Cincinnati signed Blott.

Vick has spent much of his time since Rickey signed him playing with the minor leagues of a higher classification.

No doubt he is still the property of St. Louis.

Blott, a great thrower in college, broke his shoulder blade in football and was suffering from the injury when he reported to Cincinnati. It is said Detroit passed him up because of this.

Football Real Jinx.
At the world series I had a talk with Jack Hendricks, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, who says Blott has entirely recovered and is throwing as well as ever. Hendricks looks for him to be a star.

Glenn Killinger, an All-America football player, couldn't make the grade in the majors. Hinkie Haines and Mike Gozella failed with the Yankees.

Hoge Workman, one of the greatest backfield players ever turned out in the Big Ten, met with just ordinary success as a pitcher with the Boston Red Sox.

A football reputation is quite a handicap to the college athlete who aspires to shine in big league baseball. A real jinx.

GIANTS, SOX PLAY BEFORE 20 PEOPLE

(By The Associated Press)
DUBLIN, Oct. 28.—After playing an exhibition game Sunday at Cork Park before fewer than twenty spectators, the New York Giants and the Chicago White Sox cancelled today's game and departed for London. The newspapers commented on the lack of publicity given the exhibition game and the fact that it was played when most people were at church. The score was: Sox 3; 14; 0—Giants 4; 12; 2.

Pictures of ice skaters are breaking into the sport pages. And it seems that yesterday that Connie Mack was telling the business men's club of Montgomery he'd finish second.

Hearing that Red Grange has a younger brother playing football, Mr. Yost of Michigan, commented simply, "Sufficient unto the day is the Grange thereof."

There is no commercialism in college football. Teams that travel half way across the continent to play in the Polo Grounds merely have the business interests of the Pullman company in mind.

Lead In Virginia In Scoring Honors

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 28.—Wyndham White, of the Flying Squadron, and Eddie Cameron of the Generals, are leading the field of Virginia gridiron players for individual scoring honors, each having made 42 points to date.

The siege gun of V. M. I., looting behind Cameron all season filed his total five points Saturday by a placement goal and two successful tries after touchdown. Virginia Tech's defense gave the Generals' "big berth" no chance last week.

Cameron, however, has scored more touchdowns than any other player in the state, having seven to his credit now. White and Jimmy Orr, dazzling plunger of King's college, have each crossed the goal line five times. Don Rutherford stands apt to lose his laurels last year in the kicking field. To date he has been able to boot only three goals from the field while Hurt, or Roanoke has four on his list. Rutherford drops-kicks while Hurt kicks from placement.

The "thousand point tornado" leads in points for goal after touchdowns with Osborne totalling eleven successes. White is second with nine, Matsu of William and Mary, third with six; Thomas, Washington and Lee fourth with five and Rutherford fifth with four.

Cut Your Fuel Cost With a Moore's Air Tight Heater

MOORE'S ORIGINAL AIR-TIGHT HEATER does not radiate. It CIRCULATES and warms all the rooms evenly, just like a Furnace. It leaves no cold spots any place. It thoroughly warms the floors.

And this pays for itself. In reality it costs you nothing. The famous Moore Anti-Carbon Fire Pot needs four-tenths less fuel. It burns all the soot, gas and smoke that other heaters waste.

Over a million people use the MOORE'S AIR-TIGHT HEATER. This remarkable sale is due to only one thing—SATISFIED USERS. With the MOORE'S AIR-TIGHT HEATER the rooms are warm ALL OVER—every nook and corner just alike.

When your senses
fail you

EYES, nose, taste and touch safeguard you in buying most of the things you eat, drink, wear or use, but when it comes to lubricating oil for your car your senses alone cannot distinguish quality at the time of purchase.

There's no simple test for quality in oil. We only wish there were. It would make the sale of "Standard" Polarine much simpler. As it is, you have to buy any oil pretty much on faith.

Yet there is one safeguard that will help you to keep your car properly lubricated. Always pass up any nameless oil or one whose history you cannot trace from its name. That is the safest of all buying rules. Refiners with reputations to maintain are proud to put their names on their products. There is no mystery about "Standard" Polarine Oils and Greases. The name "Standard" identifies them absolutely and completely.

Select the proper consistency of "Standard" Polarine, then ask for it by name. That is a better and simpler way to be sure of quality than any test could be in the hands of a layman. It is your protection against poor quality and against substitution. Remember the name and the consistency, then use it whenever you buy oil. It is more for your protection than ours.

Chiropractic And Our Creator

QUESTION—"I have heard your patients say that 95 per cent. of disease is caused by nerve pressure in the spine. If this is true why did not God create better and stronger spines?"

ANSWER—"When God created man did He foresee our present day environments? Did He foresee that our bodies would be subjected to all manner of physical abuse? Without attempting a Biblical explanation, we must accept facts as presented today, and the statement that 95 per cent. of diseased conditions are due to nerve pressure in the spine, cannot be denied. Picture for yourself the main shaft of a machine capable of the various movements of the human spine, subject it to the same number of twists and wrenches that the spine has to endure. With this picture in mind, you can be astonished at the X-Ray view of an abnormal spine? Is not the human body much more liable to have its parts strained-out of normal position, and the effect more severe and lasting than the man-made machine, an inanimate thing? The logic of the Chiropractic philosophy is plain. It is devoid of theory. It is an established, time-proven fact. For further proof you should consult your Chiropractor."

Everyman's Investments

By George T. Fletcher

Eight-Ninth Article. WHAT THE BANKS MAKE

Any man who is desirous of making a lot of money and live easy is to be a banker. That is a very erroneous idea that is widely prevalent. Banks do and must spend a great deal of money to handle money safely and profitably, which is an example of the necessity of every one considering very carefully the investing of his savings. It isn't at all a question of getting together a lot of money. For several months a number of banks in this country have been earning little or nothing because they have too much money. The deposits have mounted up and interest rates have dropped to as low as 2 per cent for call money—and lower—to as low as 2 1/2 per cent for short-term loans and 3 to 3 1/2 per cent for commercial paper. Many banks have so much money it is difficult to keep it both profitably and safely employed.

I heard an especially astute banker explaining to a traveling salesman, an old acquaintance, the other day why even the banks with millions of dollars at their command are held to small profits by the necessity for safety and sound business. The salesman had intermittently borrowed small sums from the bank and had paid 5 per cent interest. He had a notion that the bank made about 4 to 5 per cent clear on these loans. The banker gave him actual figures, which because they are pretty correctly representative I jotted down to repeat here:

MORNING STOCK LETTER.

(Thomson & McKinnon)

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—It will not do to take a pessimistic view of the stock market. Study the earnings of the U. S. Steel Corporation—pessimists may try to make capital out of it if it discloses one item that speaks volumes for the future of the business outlook. For the first time in three years figures for September show an increase over those of August, and we have the word of the Chairman of the Board that October shows further improvement. Look also at the freight business of the railroads—the heaviest ever known. Note the seizure of the orders now being placed for steel and coal and that not only is merchandise freight of record volume but that grain loadings comprise an unusually large percentage of the freight business. Remember that prices being received by grain growers have never been equalled except in war time. Try to visualize the purchasing power thus engendered. It doesn't mean just necessities, it takes in luxuries as well and it doesn't benefit just one industry. It is general and it is cumulative. Merchandise, freight loadings are proof of it. Business is growing better, not worse, and the effect in security prices must sooner or later be felt. Let me repeat it will not do to take a pessimistic view of the stock market.

MORNING SUGAR LETTER

(Thomson & McKinnon)

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Generally credited reports are current that Cuban raws and American refined sugars are being shipped back to this country because of lack of demand abroad. New crop sugars have been offered in the British market equivalent to 3 1/2 c. l. New York. While a bid appeared in New York 3-1-16 cent. These developments will hardly diminish existing pessimism.

Mukden Troops Occupy Ltvanchow

(By The Associated Press)

PEKING, Oct. 29.—Mukden troops have occupied Ltvanchow, after surrounding a large number of Chihli forces. The remaining Chihli forces, retreating, took up fresh positions on the Luli canal.

Ltvanchow is a city approximately 50 miles southwest of Shanhaikwan, scene of the recent fighting between the Mukden soldiers of Chang Tso-lin and the Chihli troops attached to the command of Xu Pei-fu. Following the defection of Feng Yu-Hsiang, General Wu started with a large force for Peking and the Chihli forces mentioned in the above dispatch are probably those left by him to protect his

MORNING GRAIN LETTER.

(Thomson & McKinnon)

CHICAGO, Oct. 29.—Private cables ate yesterday reported frost in Argentina. Incidentally drought has prevailed through their crop growth. It will be remembered that drought and frost cut the Canadian crop in two. The world can't be properly fed if Argentine crop fails. Conditions don't warrant such declines as occurred yesterday.

MORNING COTTON LETTER.

(Thomson & McKinnon)

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—Cables lower than due. The south had clear and warmer weather yesterday and the forecast is for fair weather. On good trade buying the market rose 3/4 a bale yesterday before contracts in any volume were met. Some hedge selling and profit taking appeared and the market sagged back to opening prices. Heavy exports of 75,000 bales were the outstanding feature. Today's weather report is awaiting with interest on account of effect of frost. Reports from Texas state that frost had cut down the crop 200,000 bales and cut off half of the top crop. Wages in the Amoskeag mills may be cut 15 per cent to meet competition of southern mills. The market should react a bit further but trade demand will check any decline of consequence.
